

WHERE ARE THEY "ATT"?

Dawes Commission's Position Grows Madder Every Day.

The subjoined correspondence between Judge G. B. Denison, of this city, and Hon. Frank C. Armstrong, is calculated to deepen the impression held in many quarters that the Dawes commission is as much "at sea" on the citizenship question as anyone else and that the courts alone will be able to determine (perhaps not satisfactorily) what the section confirming the rolls really meant. Read the letters:

VINITA, IND. TER., July 20th, 1897.
HON. FRANK C. ARMSTRONG, Acting Chairman Dawes Com., Fort Gibson, I. T.

DEAR SIR:—July 19, 1897. I wrote you as follows:

"A correspondent advises me that he has seen a letter from the secretary of the commission stating in substance that if a person was placed upon the Cherokee roll by the nation in 1896, he would not need to apply for enrollment under the act of June 7, 1897, and the circular of the commission of June 28, 1897. I desire to know officially whether this conclusion has reached this conclusion. Kindly advise me."

To this letter I have had no answer. It seems a little strange that I should not receive at least an acknowledgment of this when the country is being flooded with individual letters from a member of the commission directly contradicting the circular of June 28, 1897, and yet no order of the commission revoking the circular was made public.

I am at least entitled to an acknowledgment of my letter, whether to an answer to my query or not. I am sir.

Very Respectfully,
G. B. DENISON.

Department of the Interior, Commission to the Five Civilized Tribes, Fort Gibson, Ind. Ter., August 2, 1897.

HON. G. B. DENISON, Vinita, I. T.

SIR:—Yours of July 20th I received on my return here this morning, and I hasten to reply.

Yours of July 19th was forwarded to me at Washington, but having left there it failed to reach me, and up to date I have not received it. I regret this seeming neglect, but under the circumstances it was unavoidable. Inclosed I send you circular issued by the commission, June 28, 1897. I understand that it will be the duty of the commission to investigate the right of all whose names are not on the confirmed rolls of citizenship, and I see no necessity for making application for any one whose name is found upon any of the rolls since 1880, for the law makes it the duty of the commission to investigate the right of citizenship of all whose names are found upon the roll of the nation, other than those confirmed, as specified by act of June 7, 1897. All persons, however, whose names are on the rolls and who have children born since the making of the rolls, whose names are not on any roll, should make application to have such children enrolled. I think, however, when the commission gets to the work of making rolls, all persons whose names have been dropped from the roll, should in some manner call the attention of the commission to that fact.

On account of the delay in getting the rolls from the nations and also the records from the Indian office, we will not commence to make up the roll before Sept. 1st. By that date we will have all the rolls of the Cherokee since 1880, to which we can refer. In the meantime applicants should get their cases and evidence before the commission for examination.

The letters you refer to, which have been written to applicants, were drafted by Capt. McKennon, and I concur in the same.

Very respectfully,
FRANK C. ARMSTRONG, Acting Chairman.

The usual serenity of Grove and surrounding country was violently disturbed last Monday afternoon by the report that a foul murder had been committed three miles northeast of the village. A petty quarrel over a mortgage on some wheat caused S. D. Leonard to shoot Bill Hamilton through the neck, killing him almost instantly. It seemed Leonard held a mortgage on the wheat and through some misunderstanding Hamilton was about to take possession of the property with the above deplorable result. Hamilton lived about two hours after being shot, while Leonard after performing the dastardly deed mounted his horse and escaped. The murdered man was a carpenter by trade and is said to be a quiet, inoffensive man. His slayer is a farmer and but little can be learned of his past history.—Fairland Bee.

LATE COUNCIL'S WORK.

MEASURES TO GUARD THE CENSUS ROLLS FROM FRAUD.

Two Attorneys Appointed and Their Duties Carefully Defined—Councilors Take a Preferred Warrant.

The legislation of the called session of council is given below, excepting the bill to pay members, which called for a preferred warrant, was vetoed and passed by a two-thirds vote.

Whereas, The United States government has directed the commission to the five civilized tribes of this territory, to prepare and complete a final roll of the names of all persons who are entitled to Cherokee citizenship, according to the treaties, laws and customs of the Cherokee nation, and

Whereas, The said commission has applied to the authorities of the Cherokee nation for copies of whatever official documents on file in the executive department may, or will, enable or assist the said commission in the preparation and completion of the said final roll of Cherokee citizens.

Section 1. Therefore, Be it enacted by the national council, that the principal chief, and he is authorized to select and employ such a number of competent and expert clerks or copyists as will be able, under his direction and with the necessary certainty and dispatch, to make and furnish whatever copies of records and documents in his office may be useful and needed by the said United States commission in the making of said final roll of Cherokee citizens.

The compensation of any clerk so employed shall be $3.00 per day; and the principal chief is authorized to draw his warrants accordingly at the close of their services respectively, and the necessary amount is hereby appropriated out of the general fund not otherwise appropriated.

Sec. 2. Be it further enacted, That there shall be appointed and commissioned by the principal chief, by and with the advice and consent of the senate, four competent attorneys or counsellors at law whose duty it shall be to act for and in behalf of the Cherokee nation and people, before said United States commission in all matters and things connected with the making of said final roll, until the same shall be finished, and to represent the said nation in and before the United States courts in any case or claim to Cherokee citizenship which may be appealed to such court from the decision of said commission.

The said attorneys shall be authorized, for sufficient cause in their judgment, to question or deny, to and before the said commission or other United States authority, the right or claim of any person to be therein enrolled, whose name may be found upon any register, roll, list, or census of persons purporting to be Cherokee citizens, and subject to investigation by the United States commission.

In the investigation of any such disputed right or claim, the said attorneys, having been qualified to discharge their duties faithfully, shall assist the said United States commission to develop and ascertain the truth of the matter in each case—this portion being as much interested in upholding and defending the rights of any person justly and truly entitled to Cherokee citizenship, as in exposing and defeating all claims based on fraud or a misapprehension of the law upon the subject.

And the sum of $1000 for each attorney is hereby appropriated out of the general fund not otherwise appropriated, to pay for the services of said attorneys; and the sum of $2000, or so much thereof as may be necessary, is also appropriated out of the same fund to pay witnesses and other incidental expenses, and the principal chief is authorized to draw warrants accordingly: Provided, that the witnesses shall receive one dollar per diem, including going and returning, and the attorneys herein provided for shall have the right to issue subpoenas for witnesses and to send such subpoenas to the several sheriffs whose duty it shall be to serve them without unnecessary delay.

And in the event that it should be necessary that any of the attorneys should go and take depositions, his necessary expenses shall be paid out of the funds provided to pay witnesses fees.

Provided, further, that the attorneys herein provided for shall report to the next session of the national council the amount of money expended; and shall furnish vouchers for same.

Sec. 3. Be it enacted, that the principal chief shall cause to be printed a sufficient number of the following general notices to the Cherokee public, which shall be distributed throughout the nation.

"To the citizens of the several districts: By or before the day of—1897, you are directed to register, under oath, in the clerk's office of your district, the addition of any birth to your family since the last general enrollment of the citizens of your district in 1896, giving the name, sex and exact age of each infant so registered, the purpose of such registration being to enable the person so registered to share in the benefits attached to unquestioned citizenship."

Signed:—Principal Chief.

The principal chief shall fill the blanks with a date, to be fixed according to his best judgment; and at the expiration of said date, the clerk of each district shall be required to forward to the office of the principal chief all the affidavits of registration taken by him in compliance with this section.

Sec. 4. Be it further enacted, That the principal chief shall also appoint some suitable person for each district, who speaks both English and Cherokee, whose duty it shall be, within and during the 15 days immediately preceding the date with which the principal chief shall fill the blanks left in the above described notice to the public, to ascertain and report to the principal chief the names of all persons who were enrolled on the census of 1896 and who have since died.

The compensation of such person shall be $3.50 per day while so serving; and the principal chief shall be authorized to draw warrants accordingly upon the general fund not otherwise appropriated: Provided, the principal chief shall appoint two persons for the performance of such duty in Delaware and Coconawcaw districts.

And, provided further that the national treasurer shall be authorized to place the pay rolls of 1886 and 1894, belonging to the treasurer's office, in the temporary custody of the principal chief for the information of the said United States commission.

Sec. 5. Be it further enacted, That the act of the national council, entitled, "An act to continue the life of the commission to confer with the Dawes commission," and approved Dec. 4th, 1896, be, and the same is hereby repealed, and that the offices of the commissioners appointed through and by virtue of this act, hereby repealed, be, and the same are hereby declared void.

Passed the senate July 26, 1897.
E. L. COOKSON,
President Senate, pro tem.

R. M. WOLFE,
Clerk of Senate.

Concurred in by council, July 28th 1897, with the following amendments:

By striking out, in line 3, in section 2, the word "and" and inserting the word "or" at $1000 each, leaving two attorneys and their salaries.

By striking out all of section 4 and re-instating the Cherokee commission and inserting: "Provided further, that the words 'for act' service during the time," as is inserted in the act of the national council, approved Dec. 4th, 1896, providing for the appointment of the Cherokee commission, is hereby construed to mean that they, said commission, is to receive pay only for the time they may be in session called by the chairman of the commission.

Amendments concurred in by senate July 28, 1897.

S. H. MAYES,
Principal Chief.

THE INSTRUCTIONS

Be it enacted by the national council: That the two attorneys appointed to represent the Cherokee nation before the United States commission and courts, in the matter of making a complete and final roll of citizens of said nation, are hereby authorized and instructed as follows:

In conformity with the purpose of the act of congress approved the 7th day of June, 1897, defining the classes of persons who shall be enrolled by said United States commission on said final roll, and the said attorneys are instructed and directed to question and deny the right of any persons to be enrolled by said commission as recognized Cherokee citizens, except

First, Those persons who are yet living whose names are enrolled on the authenticated census of 1880, and the descendants or children thereof, now living, of the persons thereon enrolled, and except

Second, Those persons who are yet living who have, since the date of said authenticated roll, been admitted to the rights of Cherokee citizenship by the national council, or by the authority thereof, including those admitted by the operation of laws regulating intermarriage, and the descendants or children, now living, of persons so admitted, and except

Third, Those persons and their children, now living, whose claims to Cherokee citizenship were investigated by the said United States commission in 1896 and have been decided finally in their favor.

And the said attorneys are instructed, on behalf of this nation, to render all possible aid to the said United States commission in ascertaining the names of all persons entitled to enrollment according to the criterion for determining their right to be so enrolled, as stated and defined in the Act of congress dated June 10th, 1896, amended by Act of June 7th, 1897, and as detailed above.

And to especially and carefully guard and defend the rights and interests of bona-fide citizens against the claims and pretensions of all persons claiming to be adopted citizens but who are not either because such rights have been forfeited by voluntary act of the claimant, or because the claim of adoption is erroneously based upon a misconstruction of the law, or a misapplication of it to others besides whites, or because the law has not been complied with in respect to essential conditions required to be complied with before the rights of citizenship are invested by said law regulating intermarriage.

Passed the senate and council July 28, 1897.

Fort Smith now has trouble of its own. The town is about to lose one of its most popular attractions—the famous death trap on which so many noted criminals have been executed. The historic hangman, Maledon, who has officiated at about 80 executions in Fort Smith has a scheme. He has grown tired of the monotony of tying the noose around the necks of condemned men. Adjusting the black cap has lost its interest to this veteran gallows expert. The old man needs a change of climate. He desires to travel. As a means of seeing the country, mixing with the big outside world and at the same time making some money the hangman has decided to take his old ghastly scaffold and go into the show business. In connection with the exhibition of the gallows biographical sketches of the machine, its operator and the criminals who died thereon will be sold by the enterprising showman. But what Bunker Bill monument is to Boston, the federal jail and its man-choking attachment is to Fort Smith and the city views the removal of the latter as a public calamity.—Exchange.
